How To Use

Double Earbuds Connection

- Take out two earbuds from charging case, earbuds will connect automatically. The master earbud indicator flashes ice-blue and white light alternatively, the other bud flashes ice-blue light slowly (That indicates two earbuds connect successfully) and earbuds are in pairing mode, which is ready to connect with the Bluetooth devices.
- Open device Bluetooth, search "AWEI T56 ANC", click it and to connect. When Bluetooth is paired successfully, you will hear prompt tone "connected".
- Re-connect automatically: The earbuds will re-connect automatically to previously paired devices. (Premise is that device's Bluetooth is on and earbuds pairing record still exist.)

Note

- The two earbuds are already paired before delivery. So it is unnecessary to pair two earbuds by yourself.
- If two earbuds cannot pair successfully, please click L and R buds 7 times to clear the BT pairing record, please put them back into charging case and close the lid, then take the buds out of case, the L and R buds will pair automatically. (Remark: After open the lid, please check if the case and buds are connected, which means the left number of time on screen is "1", to make sure you can use the earbuds later conveniently)
- If the earbuds do not play any sound after connected with device, please put both earbuds into the charging case and close the lid, then open it and take the earbuds out again. (The earbuds should automatically connect to the device that they were last paired with.)
- If the earbuds powers on without being connected with device, it will power off automatically.

Single Earbud Connection

- Take one earbud out of the charging case.
- Open device Bluetooth, search "AWEI T56 ANC", click it and to connect. (When the earbud and device connect the successfully, indicator ice-blue light flashes and you can hear prompt tone "Connected".)
